

Heritage Exchanges: The Contribution of (Medical) Museums

Manon S. Parry
Professor of Medical & Nursing History

University of Amsterdam
Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

International Red Cross and Red Crescent Museum, 2022

Medicine Galleries 2019, Science Museum, London

Besmet! Rijksmuseum Boerhaave, NL, 2020

DOUBT

Seeing is believing

De studie van wat weg is Studying what is no more

Ghent University Museum, Opened 2020

“Racism The Invention of Human Races,” Dresden, 2018-2019

Het Dolhuys Museum of the Mind, Haarlem, 2015

Museum of the Mind, 2020

“Risky Histories”

- Acknowledge history is not limited to the past but has traces today
- Recognize diverse and sometimes competing interpretations
- How the best intentions can do harm

Article Sections

↓ Keywords

↓ Introduction

↓ Main text

- The end of ‘cabinets of curiosities’?
- Critical histories of medicine
- Disability on display

AUTUMN 2020, SPECIAL ISSUE: CURATING MEDICINE | RESEARCH

The valuable role of risky histories: exhibiting disability, race and reproduction in medical museums

Manon Parry

Keywords

Conclusion

- Decolonizing the History of Medicine and Global Health
- Confronting Climate Change and Implicated Existences
- Caring for the Caregiver
- Exchanging Experiences and Expertise

A TALENT